Rob Wonderling is fighting for US!

Fighting for OUR Communities

Rob supported the first property tax reform in Pennsylvania in decades. The new law adds more than 400,000 senior citizens to the Property Tax and Rent Rebate program and for the first time ever requires voter approval before school districts can raise property taxes beyond the rate of inflation. He is continuing the fight for real reform as well as addressing the issue of how we should be funding our public schools before property owners are literally taxed out of their homes.

Fighting for Consumers

Rob believes when companies compete, consumers win. In an effort to lower cable prices, Rob is working on legislation that will grant a statewide franchise to any company looking to provide video services in the Commonwealth and break local cable monopolies. In addition, he spearheaded several new cyber security laws to protect Pennsylvanians from identity theft. Rob also introduced legislation to roll back the double tax on cell phones by repealing the Gross Receipts Tax.

Fighting for OUR Constituents

Rob voted against the pay raise and strongly supported the repeal. He supports lobbyist disclosure legislation as well as legislation that places controls on state government spending. As a "fiscal watchdog" in the Pennsylvania State Legislature, he voted against the 2006 state budget because it increased state spending by over 7.5% -- money that should have been returned to Commonwealth taxpayers.
